Publication of this directory was made possible by a grant from the Corporation for National and Community Service to promote community-based research projects. The directory was prepared by the Health and Human Services Committee of Easton's Weed and Seed in collaboration with Dr. Deborah Byrd and her Lafayette College Women's and Gender Studies students. Special thanks to Class of 2008 students Karlyn Adams, Nia Chaney, Danielle Rosiejka, and Regina Saylor for their efforts.

Fall 2008, a Spanish language version of the directory will be available in hard copy and on-line, thanks to the efforts of students in the GED Preparation Program at ProJeCt of Easton's Fowler Literacy Center. Both the English and Spanish language versions of the directory will be available on the City of Easton and Lafayette College websites.

About Weed and Seed:

Weed and Seed is an initiative adopted by the Rendell administration and the Pennsylvania Commission on Crime and Delinquency to assist Pennsylvania communities in fighting back against drugs, crime, and poverty to restore neighborhood quality of life. The initiative's name describes its two critical components: "weeding" out the violent offenders in high-crime areas and then "seeding" the neighborhood with prevention, intervention, treatment, and revitalization services.

Mission Statement of the Health and Human Services Committee:

To develop and implement a strategic plan to revitalize Easton by

- Recognizing existing resources and generating new ones where necessary
- Improving community relations and community image
- Building a safe, healthy environment
- Helping residents to improve their standard of living
